	the duty to disclose information known to me which is material to the examination of this accordance with Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations, §§ 1.56(a) and (b), which state:
exami patent duty o Office	A patent by its very nature is affected with a public interest. The public interest is best, and the most effective patent examination occurs when, at the time an application is being ned, the Office is aware of and evaluates the teachings of all information material to ability. Each individual associated with the filing and prosecution of a patent application has a of candor and good faith in dealing with the Office, which includes a duty to disclose to the all information known to that individual to be material to patentability as defined in this at the duty to disclose information exists with respect to each pending claim until the claim is

(1) prior art cited in search reports of a foreign patent office in a counterpart application, intentional misconduct. The Office encourages applicants to carefully examine:

cancelled or withdrawn from consideration, or the application becomes abandoned. Information material to the patentability that is cancelled or withdrawn from consideration need not be submitted if the information is not material to the patentability of any claim remaining under consideration in the application. There is no duty to submit information which is not material to the patentability of any existing claim. The duty to disclose all information known to be material to patentability is deemed to be satisfied if all information known to be material to patentability of any claim issued in a patent was cited by the Office or submitted to the Office in the manner prescribed by §§ 1.97(b)-(d) and 1.98. However, no patent will be granted on an application in connection with which fraud on the Office was practiced or attempted or the duty of disclosure was violated through bad faith or

(2) the closest information over which individuals associated with the filing or prosecution of a patent application believe any pending claim patentably defines, to make sure that any material information contained therein is disclosed to the Office.

- (b) Under this section, information is material to patentability when it is not cumulative to information already of record or being made of record in the application, and
  - (1) It establishes, by itself or in combination with other information, a prima facie case of unpatentability of a claim; or
  - (2) It refutes, or is inconsistent with, a position the applicant takes in:
    - Opposing an argument of unpatentability relied on by the Office, or
    - (ii) Asserting an argument of patentability.

A prima facie case of unpatentability is established when the information compels a conclusion that a claim is unpatentable under the preponderance of evidence, burden-of-proof standard, giving each term in the claim its broadest reasonable construction consistent with the specification, and before any consideration is given to evidence which may be submitted in an attempt to establish a contrary conclusion of patentability."
